Dear Professor Penrose, I thank you for the invitation which it is I regret to say impossible for me to accept.

Please permit me to congratulate you. There is no one ever likely to attain such eminence in whose recognition I would feel such personal satisfaction if I may say so. And it is for me enhanced by association with the name & family of the murdered president who conferred so much honour upon Ireland.

Yours sincerely
J MacSorley
